A royal history

The Savill Garden was created by Sir Eric Savill, grand master of the woodland garden, in the 1930s with the support of King George V and Queen Mary.

Since that time, the Garden has continued to develop under Royal Patronage, with most recently HM The Queen opening the Rose Garden in June 2010.

Discover The Savill Garden

At 35 acres, the garden is large enough to surprise and delight, but small enough to be intimate and manageable.

The Savill Garden is a garden of beauty and colour where visitors journey through interconnecting gardens, each one coming into its own in different seasons.

Spring

Early spring heralds the arrival of spring bulbs and carpets of daffodils. The stream is flanked with bright yellow and white skunk cabbage, an unusual and powerfully scented display!

Late spring arrives in Spring Wood which comes alive in April and May when the rhododendrons and azaleas start their magnificent display. In the Bog Garden, part of the Hidden Gardens, the first of the candelabra primulas come into flower closely followed by Siberian irises and other moisture loving plants.

Summer

Summer provides a rich variety of colour, scent and design shown through the Summer Gardens; the Golden Jubilee Garden, the spectacular double herbaceous borders, the Dry Garden and Rose Garden.

The Rose Garden is a magnificent new addition, at its best from mid-June to mid-September. It provides an intense sensory experience with roses specially chosen for their scent, strong colours and repeat flowering. As the deep aroma of the roses naturally rises, visitors can enjoy the perfume at its best, from a walk way which appears to 'float' above the Rose Garden.

Autumn

Autumn in the garden blends seamlessly from summer with stunning displays of colour from the maples in Autumn Wood.

Winter

Winter is a time for beautiful seasonal displays in the Temperate House and the Winter Beds to shine. Discovering pockets of perfume in the Garden through the winter months can be a magical and unexpected bonus.

National collections

Nationally recognised collections including magnolias, Fuji cherries, species rhododendrons and mahonia with more than 20 nationally recognised champion trees.

"If, like me, you enjoy a garden for the special plants and displays each season offers, then The Savill Garden is truly a nirvana."

Roy Lancaster,
BBC Gardens Illustrated

"The new rose garden at The Savill Garden, with its soaring viewpoint, is a triumph..."

Stephen Lacey,
The Daily Telegraph

Relax and enjoy your day out

The award winning Savill Building is both the entrance to The Savill Garden and the visitor centre for the wider Royal Landscape. The iconic, gridshell roof was designed to echo the rolling terrain of the surrounding Windsor Great Park and is made from oak and larch, harvested from the Windsor Estate.

Eating and drinking

The restaurant, managed by Leith's, offers good quality food and drink on a self service basis. There is a hot food counter, always with a vegetarian option, home-made soup, freshly made sandwiches and Paninis, a salad bar, children's food and beautiful home-made cakes. The restaurant overlooks the entrance to The Savill Garden and there is a large outdoor terrace where visitors are welcome to bring their dogs*.

The Gallery coffee bar is situated at the end of the Savill Garden shop and showcases work by local artists, all of which are available to purchase. The coffee bar is open seasonally, please see website for up to date opening times.

*No dogs allowed inside the restaurant or the Gallery coffee bar.

Shopping

The gift shop offers a wide variety of interesting and unique gifts with a good range of tempting giftware, stationery and books available alongside educational toys and games for children. There are fine foods perfect for gifts, delightful fragrances and soaps, superb British made jewellery, original artworks and a fabulous range of greetings cards. Hedgehog houses, bat nests and bird boxes make for a perfect present for people who have everything!

"The coffee and pastries were delicious. The restaurant was busy but the staff were extremely efficient, friendly and patient."
